Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Saturday 10 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dull start in east, otherwise bright with scattered thundery showers.

Today:
Low cloud in east llifting. Still some showers in northeast and scattered thundery showers breaking out elsewhere inland by afternoon, but southwestern coasts staying sunny. A warm day,with light winds.

Tonight:
Still some heavy thundery showers inland for a time this evening but some late sunshine especially on west coast, Most places dry overnight.

Sunday:
Scattered thundery showers breaking out again especially from the Borders to the Central Belt, Central Highlands and around Inverness. Patchy coastal haar in northeast. Warm.

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Sunshine and scattered heavy thundery showers on Monday and Tuesday, Mainly dry with some sunshine on Wednesday. A warm spell.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.